

BRAS, BIBLES & BREW*

Fall 2017 Theme: Spirituality

Lucky Lab Tap Room

1700 N. Killingsworth St.

(Look for the welcoming women in the building's east side event room.)

Thursday Evenings

7 – 9pm

September 28 — Spirituality & You

October 5 — Spirituality & Traditions

October 19 — Spirituality & Place

November 2 — Spirituality & Religion

November 16 — Spirituality & Questions

Each week, we hope to cultivate and nurture a sense of mystery and possibility by looking at Spirituality through a variety of perspectives. Our focus will be on slowly unraveling where we have come from, where we are, and where our sights are set spiritually in the world around us. This round will continue to facilitate MORE BRAS, with our continuation of stories from other BBB women, MORE BREWS as we enjoy Lucky Lab North Tap Room and the outside fall air when possible and MORE BIBLES as we explore sacred texts from many traditions.

Whether you always come, haven't been in awhile or this is your first time, please join us this Fall as we explore wise women's experiences together.

*Sips, snacks and sharing are available and optional.

Bring your story and your questions.

Together we'll explore various topics through our hearts, minds, bodies, and spirit while connecting with each other.

This is a feminist approach to exploring sacred texts from many traditions.

By feminist we mean creating compassionate space for exploring spirituality – wherever one is on their spiritual journey.

This happens by intentionally relating and creating meaning through conversation, storytelling, relationship, and community.

We grow community through shared experience, respect and support.

We encourage women of all ages and walks of life to join us. More perspectives offers more wisdom.

We are rooted in the LEAVEN Community that welcomes, values and affirms the life, voices and experiences of all people
